Message from HAPCOA National President Hector Hernandez

Season's Greetings! I would like to take this time to thank each and every one of you for attending our 36th HAPCOA Annual Training Conference in New Orleans, LA. This year's conference was a success and it was due to your attendance and support of HAPCOA and its efforts.

HAPCOA is committed to the career advancement of qualified men and women in the field of law enforcement and criminal justice. We are also dedicated to the public safety of the communities where these men and women serve. HAPCOA accomplishes this by "empowering the future of law enforcement" by assisting law enforcement, criminal justice and community organizations nationwide in their wide efforts to recruit, train and promote qualified Hispanic American men and women.

I hope that all of you found our training beneficially and rewarding. I also witnessed many new friendships develop and hope that this networking will benefit others in pursuit of career development.

It has been a pleasure and an honor to serve as HAPCOA's National President this year and I am also honored by being asked to serve as National President for this upcoming year.

Once again, thank you and a special thanks to our vendors and corporate sponsors; Budweiser, Motorola and Verizon for their continued support of HAPCOA and Hispanics in Law Enforcement.

May all of you and your families be blessed during the upcoming Holidays. I look forward to seeing all of you in San Antonio, TX in 2010.
